CONSOLIDATED H. S. AT WILCOX STANDS

VOTE ON DISSOLUTION DEFEATED AT ELECTION YESTERDAY.

ANOTHER VOTE JUNE 29

Additional School Levy to be Brought Before Voters Is Fourth Election of Year.

The Wilcox consolidated high school district will remain in effect, the special election held yesterday for the purpose of dissolving the organization, being defeated.

The vote was 83 in favor of dissolution and 71 against the proposition. It required a two-thirds majority of all voters in the district to dissolve the consolidation and the result was not unexpected as the general feeling over the district was that it would not carry. A number of people in favor of the consolidated high school failed to vote, making the negative vote some lighter than was expected.

An election for the levy of 85 cents, an additional 45 cents above the regular levy, will be held on Tuesday, June 29. The districts involved in the consolidation are Ireland, Mt. Vernon, Guthrie, Griffith, Wilcox, Shell Grove, and Knabb.

This is the fourth election held at Wilcox this year on the levies and consolidation. The vote on consolidation was held February 4, with 56 votes cast in favor and 54 against.

This shipment is the clip from forty-seven flocks, that many farmers having agreed to come into the county pool and also into the district pool. The total amount of wool for Nodaway county will exceed 100,000 pounds this year. There are 460 sheep raisers in the county with flocks of varying size.

Fifty thousand pounds was received in St. Joseph last week in the first shipments made. Grading the wool will begin next Monday when the entire shipments from the district will have been received.

LOWELL LIVENGOOD HEAD OF COLLEGE ALUMNI

The other officers chosen were Miss Lucile Holmes of Maryville, vice-president and Miss Cassie Abbsire, also of Maryville, secretary and treasurer.

About eighty attended the banquet last night. The guests were seated at three long tables, which were attractively decorated with apple blossoms and vases of pink and white peonies. The College orchestra played during the serving of the banquet.

Miss Mattie Dykes presided as toastmistress, and responses to the various topics were made by Miss Mildred Miller, Miss Frances Holliday, Miss Harriett Van Buren, who took the place of Miss Myrtle McPherron, Egbert Jennings, President Ira Richardson and Miss Beatrix Winn. A violin solo was given by C. D. Kutschinski and a vocal solo by Miss Margaret James.

The selection of the alumni representative on the Green and White Courier, the College paper, was held over until the beginning of the fall term when the selection will be made by the new president and Miss Winn, who is in charge of the publication.

JOHNSON WILL NOT TAKE SECOND PLACE ON TICKET.

Chicago, June 9.—"Any report I am to take second place on the Republican ticket is absolutely false and is just another suggestion or invitation of some of my 'friends' who don't believe I am fit to be president, but want to place me just a heart beat from the president. I have received many of these invitations. I am in this fight to win and we are going to win."

Senator Johnson today thus branded the report current that he had agreed to accept the nomination for vice-president as the running mate of Knox.

PLATFORM MAY NOT BE READY UNTIL NOON THURSDAY.

Chicago, June 9.—The writing of the platform for submission to the convention may not be completed by the resolutions committee before noon tomorrow, members of the platform "steering committee" declared.

SEATED THE DICKEY-MARKS DELEGATES FROM KANSAS CITY.

Chicago, June 9.—The credentials committee of the Republican national convention early this morning voted by a vote of 27 to 20 to seat Robert J. Flick and Jesse L. Martin of Kansas City as holding the proper credentials from the Missouri State Convention.

Convention Sidelights.

Chicago, June 9.—People in the balconies have binoculars trying to count the hairs on the dome of William J. Bryan, who sits with the newspaper men.

Lady with sunburnt red hair sitting in an Arkansas chair wears a fur tight around her throat and looks cool. "Why wear that carnation" she asked Lodge. "To distinguish the only chairman the convention has", he replied.

Politicians are reading the newspapers probably to find out what it is all about.

Ask Increased Freight Rates.

Washington, June 9.—Increases today of four per cent in freight rates between points east of the Mississippi and points west of the Mississippi were asked for by representatives of the carriers today at the inter-state commerce commission hearing. Evidence to support the demand must be submitted during the day.

Judge and Mrs. Jesse Robertson motored to Burlington Junction yesterday to attend the funeral services for Mrs. Andrew Shiel, which were held there yesterday afternoon.

SECOND SESSION OF CONVENTION

ONLY A SHORT MEETING OF THE REPUBLICANS THIS MORNING.

BATTLE OVER PLATFORM

Committee Think They Will Be Ready to Report Tomorrow—Reports of Other Committees Adopted.

The convention adjourned at 12:15 until 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The battle over the League of Nations raging behind closed doors in an up-town hotel forced the adjournment of the Republican national convention today in less than an hour after they met. The resolutions committee, Chairman Lodge informed the convention, has so far been unable to agree and can only report progress.

Reports of other committees, credentials, rules and organization were adopted.

The features of the short session this morning was Chauncey M. Depew's sarcastic references to the President's Paris peace negotiations, the appearance of Mrs. McCarter of Topeka, the first woman to address the Republicans from the platform. It was a humoruos time telling session full of song, frolic and laughs instead of deliberations and debates.

Chicago, June 9.—The second session of the Republican national convention got under way today with no startling changes in the standing of the three leading candidates, but with several new developments which may tend to show the way the political winds are blowing. The most significant of these was a combination of the forces of Wood and Johnson in the committee of credentials. This combination succeeded in electing Edwin Duffield of New Jersey, a Wood man, chairman of the committee and upset the action of the full national committee and reseated several Wood delegates ousted by the full committee. How far the combination of Wood and Johnson elements would go was a matter today which give the politicians food for much thought.

General Wood is expected to poll upwards of 300 votes on the first ballot. Johnson will get, it is conceded, approximately 200 votes. Only 493 votes are necessary to nominate.

Lodge as Permanent Chairman.

Senator Lodge, temporary chairman, was selected by the committee on permanent organization as permanent chairman. There were three nominations for the place and Senator Lodge was named in the first ballot over former Senator Beveridge of Indiana and Senator McCormick of Illinois. The vote was: Lodge, 22; Beveridge, 9, and McCormick, 7. The remainder of the temporary organization was recommended for permanent service without opposition.

To Spend Summer at Portland.

F. M. Hunt and daughters, Persis and Thelma, and the girls' grandmother, Mrs. D. S. Holmes, will leave the first of next week for Portland, Oregon, where they will spend the summer visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Holmes.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Chafin of St. Louis, who have been visiting in Maryville at the home of Judge and Mrs. Jesse Robertson and at Burlington Junction with Mr. and Mrs. L. Singleton, will leave Friday for their home at St. Louis.

H. D. Snyder went to Hannibal this morning on a business trip.

Generally fair tonight and Thursday; somewhat cooler in the northwest portion tonight and in the north portion Thursday.

IS McJIMSEY RIGHT?

I do not think Babler's actions were improper or that the publicity which has resulted will hurt the party in Missouri.—E. E. E. McJimsey.

The private judgment of Mr. McJimsey on the point at issue might not be of much consequence. But as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, Mr. McJimsey's opinion is of great weight, provided it is a representative opinion.

Those "actions of Babler" which McJimsey thinks were not improper have to do with the distribution of the Lowden fund. Public knowledge of the affair is still incomplete, but, as far as known, it is a sorry incident. The first the public heard from Babler was a denial that he had received any of the Lowden money. That, of course, was a lie. Under oath, Babler has admitted receiving $17,000 of this fund. In his disbursement items he has accounted for about half of that amount. A full accounting may eventually be given—if not before the senate investigating committee, perhaps before a party tribunal. But even when that is done, and the balance is reached, there will still remain to be explained the deception with which Babler distributed this money.

Babler has been guilty of giving away money under false pretenses. McJimsey himself has testified to that fact in his statement that he supposed the two checks for $500 each which Babler gave him were Babler's personal contribution to his campaign fund.

Yet McJimsey says such actions are not improper, and he does not believe the exposure will hurt the Republican party in this state. If he is right in his premise, that such conduct is not improper, his conclusion is correct. If the Republican party of Missouri is so morally decomposed that it regards the falsehood and duplicity of Babler as not improper, then this exposure will not hurt it. A party so debased can neither be hurt nor helped. It is hopeless.

The Post-Dispatch does not share McJimsey's wretched opinion of the Republican party in Missouri. There is abundant evidence that the party is shocked by the scandal of the Lowden fund and that it will repudiate not only the guilty, but their apologists as well.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

PEACH FUNGICIDE SAVES MILLIONS FOR GROWERS

United States Department of Agriculture Develops Preventive of Brown Rot.

The efforts which peach growers of this country are making at this time of the year to forecast the size of the season's crop calls attention to the immense value of a fungicide developed by the United States Department of Agriculture with which brown rot one of the most serious menaces to the peach industry, can be controlled. But for this simple, effective remedy the present forecasts would of necessity have to be made on an altogether different basis. The Bureau of Crop Estimates, United States Department of Agriculture, which forecasts the 1920 commercial crop at 29,240,000 bushels (based on conditions, April 5), states that its reporters everywhere regard the fungicide as the big factor that prevents a decline of the peach industry similar to that from which apple growing has suffered in parts of the Middle West.

Up to a few years ago there was no satisfactory fungicide which could be sprayed on peaches during the growing season without seriously injuring the foliage. Everything which was tried to control the brown-rot fungus resulted in damage that made it prohibitive. Finally a simple mixture made by adding flour of sulphur to slacking lime was found by the department's investigators to have just the right qualities.

The peach crop of this country, according to the 1910 census, was valued at approximately $29,000,000. It is estimated that, with the increased production and increased prices resulting from control of brown rot and other fungus diseases, the present annual peach crop is worth between $50,000,000 and $60,000,000. Of this, probably 15 to 20 per cent would be destroyed annually by brown rot if no control measures were used. On the other hand, between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000 is saved to the fruit grower and at the shipping points as a result of the department's discovery. Not only is the grower able to produce an increased quality of fruit but the sprayed fruit is much superior to the unsprayed, so that its value is enhanced and all concerned — growers, carriers, dealers, and consumers — benefit correspondingly.

The Itching and Sting of Blazing, Fiery Eczema

Seems Like the Skin Is on Fire.

There is a harassing discomfort caused by Eczema that becomes a torture. The itching is almost unbearable and the skin seems on fire with the burning irritation. A cure from local applications of salves and ointments is impossible, because such treatment can only allay the pain temporarily. The disease can only be reached by going deep down to its source.

The source of Eczema is in the blood, the disease being caused by an infection which breaks out through the skin. That is why the most satisfactory treatment for all so-called skin diseases is S. S. S., for this remedy so thoroughly cleanses the blood that no impurities can remain. Get a bottle today, and you will see results from the right treatment. Write for advice. OKLAHOMA METEOR SEEN HERE LAST NIGHT

Large Meteor Fell to Earth in a Field Near Okmulgee.

Many people in and around Maryville saw the large meteor in the south last night about 8:45 o'clock. According to Prof. C. B. Smith, professor of astronomy at Muskogee, this mysterious visitor came from a destroyed planet between Jupiter and Mars. He said frequently this planet throws off bits that hurtle through space and that friction in passing through the air at tremendous speed ignites them and they usually are burned to ashes before they strike the earth.

The meteor was seen in the south traveling from west to east and appeared to be within a few hundred yards of the earth and the lower and heavier portion was of a greenish blue color, followed by a long wedged-shaped tail. As it approached the earth, the head apparently separated into four parts, which, however, remained close together, and during the last few seconds of the fall the southern sky was lighted with a blue-green flash.

All roads leading to the spot where the meteor fell and which is still burning, are clogged with motor cars filled with people who are hurrying to see the meteor burn.

HOW THE FEMALE INTELLECT WORKS.

The female intellect is a curious thing, says Dorothy Dix in May Good Housekeeping. Her famous character "Mirandy," says about it:

Ain't hit funny dat when women wants to have a real, shg chut good time dey des sets down an' norrates 'buot deir troubles? You'd think dat when anything happened to anybody dat was bad enuf for 'em to cry 'bout dat dey'dsorter draw de veil of silence over hit, but dat ain't de way dat de female intellek wuks.

Hit laks to perrade hits griefs in public, an' dere ain't nothin' dat a woman really enjoys lak havin' a secret sorrow dat she can tell to anybody dat'll listen. An' when she gits good an' started on tellin' her trobues she des throws de throttle wide open an' lets her tongue go, no matter ef she is castin' asparagus on de characters of her own flesh an' blood.
